Schedule. By Telegraph from the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, March 4.- There will be a lull in the House for severa eks after the excitement that ha existed since the holidays. It is the intention of the House managers to push the consideration of the appropriabills to the exclusion of every thing else during the coming week Two days, probably three, will be taken to complete the consideration of the Pension Appropriation Bill. it is disposed of the District of Columbia and consular and diplomatic bills will consume the balance of the week. When these are completed the election cases will be taken up, and then the House will return to other appropria tion bills. The Democratic members of the Senate Committee on Finance find it nec essary to take at least one more day to consider the tariff bill before presenting it to the full committee. They had been anxious to complete the bill yesterday so as to be able to lay it before the full committee tomorrow, and they did not relax in this purpos until the last moment before completing their work yesterday, but they found that it had been necessary to give so much time to Senators who wanted to be heard on various schedules that they had comparatively little time for consultation.

The contest between the members of the committee and the discontented element has been very sharp. Loss of the Transport Venus.

A Terrific Explosion is Heard and the Vessel's After Part is Seen to Sink-Whisky Loses a Baffle.

By Telegraph from the Associated Press.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 26.-(By Brazilian Cable, via Montevideo, March 4. Associated Press copyright, 1894.) The reports of the loss of the rebel transport Venus have been confirment the details but the details are yet meager. Friday morning the armed rebel transport Jupitor Marte and the Venus opened a bombardment against the government batteries and quite a lively fire was exchanged. Suddenly there was a terrific roar heard above the boomlar rific roar heard above the booming of guns and it was seen, as the smoke cleared away, that an explosion had occurred on the Venus. The vessel nad been torn in half and almost im mediately the stern half went to the bottom. The bow part was on fire, and in a few minutes the flames were raging furiously. This portion of the Venus floated for half an hour and then went down.

The Venus was commanded by Capt. Vasconcellos. He, with three officers and twenty-nine men, made up the crew. Every soul on board was lost. Some of the crew could be seen for a time on the forward part of the vessel and efforts were made to rescue them, but the boats were slow and the men on the wreck were forced by fire into the water. Before they could be reached all went down.

The most probable theory of the explosion is that a shot from the batterles struck the boat amidship and tore through the hull and boiler. It is tore through the hull and boiler. It is not thought the magazine exploded, for the smoke of the explosion was reddish-brown and the smoke of powder is

RIO DE JANEIRO, March 4.-It is generally believed that the insurrection here and in the south is virtually over. The rebels are losing at all points. By far the most bloody battle that has been fought during the revolution took place early on the morning of February 9 at Armacao Mountain, when the insurgents lost 250 men. The robels at first repulsed the government troops, but the discovery of a large supply of whisky proved fatal to the attacking force.

The rebels devoted themselves to whisky with the result that in a very short time many of them were placed hors de combat. It was while the greater number of the rebels were hopelessly intoxicated that the severe loss inflicted upon them by the gov-

Roseberry Busy With His Cabinet

A Telegram of Congratulation from the Prince-An Address for the ex-Prime Minister-The Radical

By Telegraph from the Associated Press. LONDON, March 4 .- (By Atlantic Cable.) Mr. Gladstone today wrote to Lord Roseberry congratulating him upon accession to the premiership. his letter Mr. Gladstone promised to aid the new Prime Minister whenever his assistance was asked. It is understood that Roseberry's communication to Sir William Vernon Harcourt has resulted in the latter consenting to retain his position as Chancellor of the Exchequer and to accepting the government leadership in the House of Commons. Lord Roseberry was busily engaged all day. Herbert Asquith, the Home Secretary, and Earl Spencer, First Lord of Admiralty, visited him and remained for some time; afterward Roseberry called upon the Earl of Kimberly and offered him the post of Foreign Secretary. Roseberry has been the recipient of many congratulatory letters and dispatches. Among those who graphed were the Prince and Princess of Wales.

Hundreds of letters and telegrams expressing regret because of his retirement from office were received by Mr. Gladstone. The ex-Prime Minister attended church twice today ooked remarkably well. Mrs. Gladstone has not yet entirely recovered from her recent indisposition. Nationalists propose to present Mr. Gladstone an address in recognition of the great services that he has rendered to the Irish cause. The speech from the throne proroguing Parliament was signed by the Queen yesterday The speech is the last official document prepared by Mr. Gladstone. It briefly refers to the protracted and labo character of the session. stated that Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone will go Tuesday to Brighton and that they will spend Easter at Hawarden Castle

Prime Minister Roseberry held his first Cabinet council this afternoon. All the ministers were present except Mr. Asquith and Henry Fowler, president of the local government board. Upon its conclusion Lord Roseberry sent a message to the Queen submitting names of members of the new Cabinet.

Interviews had today by the represen tative of the Associated Press with the leading members of the House of Commons show that while a section of the Radicals continue to strongly re-sent the selection of Roseberry as Gladstone's successor, there is a large preponderance of Liberals who favor accepting Lord Roseberry. Labouchere continues to lead the irreconcilables. He hints that they will soon find an opportunity to protest in a practical form in the House of Commons against the selection of Roseberry.

"Ethel is 17 years old, and she will soon attain her majority. She was the favorite child of her father. Thomas Smith. When he died he left her all if his estate, and now there is about 1500 due her. This money is on deposit with the Union Trust Company. Some months ago, Attorney Hayford, who had serious trouble in Los Angeles, go control of the girl. He took Ethel from a private boarding-school in Oakland and placed her in charge of a woman in San Francisco. Judge Greene allowed this to be done, and since that time he has been lenient with Hayford on every proposition. The lawyer's conduct toward the girl became a matter of common remark. A Crisis in the Career of Gov. Hughes.

A Determined Effort on the Part of His Opponents to lave Him Ousted-An Attempted Hold-up--General Notes.

TUCSON, March 2 .- (Special Corres pendence.) A crisis is probably at hand in the career of Gov. Hughes. If his enemies keep at him long enough they will undoubtedly "down" him. It now looks as though the time is nearly at hand, and Hughes's enemies are stayers if it isn't now. The poor Gov-ernor has come to the stage where his ernor has come to the stage where his friends are afraid to admit they are such. Tonight Dr. Hughes, a Phoenix man, representing the "outs" faction of the Democracy, and a rival candidate at the time of the appointment of the present Governor, leaves for Washington to present his claims once again. He is hopeful that he will accomplish his purpose—"something for the party and possibly for myself." He takes with him petitions signed by numerous Democrats for the removal of Gov. L. C. Hughes.

AN ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP.

Monday morning while the train from Benson was making a fair rate of speed a man wearing a yellow-leather coat, broad-brimmed slouch hat and carrying a shotgun signaled the engineer to stop. The latter, however, glanced ahead, saw the track was clear and pulled 'er wide open, leaving the spot as rapidly as possible. Several passengers ran to the rear platform to get a view of a real, live train-robber. "Isn't he handsome?" said one lady. "How mad he is!" said another. "He is waving his hand at me!" Joyousiy exclaimed a third. "Oh, no; he is shaking his fiast at the engineer," said No. 4, while a Tombstone man took the sentiment out of the affair. "It's Allen Engilsh, our leading attorney, who has been down on Land's ranch on a duck hunt, and wants to get home," said he. And so it was, and Allen left a blue trail behind him as he struck out for St. David to get a team to bring him home." AN ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP.

They have just completed a tour of the Huachuca range from the post to below the Sonora line. They gathered and shipped over six hundred specimens from that range.

The party travels with three burros packed, and walks behind, as the successful prospector in Arizona always goes. They will thoroughly work the Chiricahua range of mountains, after which they will go into the Slerra Madre Mountains of Mexico.

One of the finds which interested them greatly was the existence in large quantities of sea shells and mollusks on the summit of the Huachuca range. They also found one variety of fly, catcher in the range which had never been known before to exist in North America. The party will be at work until next fall.

Gossip About Two Well-known Thestrical

People.

For several days past gossip has been busy with the names of McKee Rankin, the actor, and Miss Lampson, a young lady, formerly connected with his company, and now playing with him at the Burbank Theater. The young lady's mother has been here for several days stopping at the Hollenbeck, and it is claimed that she is here to investigate the matter and ascertain just what the relations are that exist between the daughter and Mr. Rankin. Though the relations are that exist between the daughter and Mr. Rankin. Though she was at the matinee Saturday afternoon, when a reporter called on her in the evening, Mrs. Lampson declined to be seen on the ground that she was ill. It is known, however, that she has employed a detective and has instituted inquiries about the city, but has apparently not yet made up her mind as to what she will do.

Miss Lampson when seen by a Times reporter expressed herself as much surprised that any report should be in circulation connecting her name improperly with that of Mr. Rankin, and denounced it as absurd.

She said her father and mother had not lived happily together for some time past. When she first went on the stage it was with her mother's consent. She played for a while with the company at San Francisco and was with it at San Diego when it was stranded.

I SELL THE EARTH.

Well, it is according to what you want, but if you ask me to show you a good bargain I would hitch up the "insects" and hither us hillwards to that 80 acres just north of Pomona, 4½ miles. I tell you any man that picks that 80 acres up and puts it in his pocket gets "gold" value even in these gold times. Now that is the first idea that strikes me for putting it strong, if you can put it stronger please write it down and send it to me; I will indorse your sentiments and put it in print, for you can not make it too strong. Just think, 80 acres with the prospects of water that this place has, for $1500, on easy terms. Shall wrap it up?

WOMEN OF BRAINS.

The Times has the pleasure of announcing a timely and brilliant article, big cash-box. comprising the views of many distinguished women on the important and ever interesting question, "Woman in Public Life," arranged by Mrs. Ada Crisp, sister-in-law of Hon, Charles F. Speaker of the House of Representatives. A score of the leading femirane minds of the country discuss every side of the woman's suffrage problem, and the varied fields of public service that lie within the power of woman to fill. The letters are pithy, pointed and direct in style, each writer expressing her views with decision, and attaching her name. The list of contributors to this striking symposium includes Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Mrs. Russell Sage, Sarah Orne Jewett, Frances E. Willard, "Jenny June," "Grace Greenwood," Julia C. R. Dorr, Olive Thorne Miller, Lillie Devereux Blake, Mrs. Frank Leslie, Mrs. A. M. Palmer, Louise Chandler Moulton, Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher, "Marion Harland," Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Emma D. E. N. This is certainly a reasonable explanation of Grover's headstrong and heretofore inexplicable course, but it is a question whether the press censorship of lackey Thurber might not be more profitably employed. For instance, he might, just for one day, give the President a batch of the other sort of sayings in order to wake the self-satisfaction of e halo-wearer who has wrecked the fortunes of millions of his countrymen by a policy that is as stupid as it is heartless and shameful. The government of far-off Persia has taken a stand against silver that would seem to suit the most ardent gold-bug. It not only officially announces that the mint will no longer coin silver for the public, but that the importation of silver is prohibited for the future, and that a month hence the authorities will treat as contraband all white metal not ordered by the mints. These continued assaults on the coin metal of the masses will surely result in the sooner placing it on its proper status. The dawn has a silver lining.

The bill introduced by Mr. Bryan of Nebraska authorizing or instructing the Secretary of the Treasury to redeem coin obligations in either gold or silver, at his discretion, is founded upon common-sense. As a matter of fact the passage of a special law on the subject would not seem to be necessary. If the authorities were not so palpably playing into the hands of the gold-bugs, coin obligations would have been so redeemed all along, and Kindergarten Training Schools.

LOS ANGELES, March 4.—(To the Editor.) Please correct a statement which appeared in this morning's issue in reference to county board certificates. I heartily agree with the County Board of Education on the two years' course of training for kindergarten teachers, having been the first in this State to require this two-year course in the Los Angeles training school, four years ago, when I introduced the kindergartens into the public schools of our city. I do not believe in the injustice, however, of issuing certificates to applicants of other training-schools, whose, requirements are only one year's course, to the exclusion of the students of the Los Angeles school. I therefore asked that two grade certificates be issued—one on the completion of the first year's work, entitling the applicant to a position as assistant, the other on the completion of the full two years' course, entitling the applicant to a position as director of a kindergarten. I consider that the standard for a director must be higher than for an assistant, and, as our city board employs two grades of teachers in the city kindergartens, I asked that two certificates might be granted.

NORA D. MAYHEW. Kindergarten Training Schools tained without the issuance of further bonds. We fear, however, that unless the law is made mandatory, it will be of little use. So long as it is left "dis-cretionary" with Mr. Carlisle he will probably continue to shell out gold as

It is chiefly devoted to McEwen's

Mr. M. H. de Young—Sir: I know the precise sum you recently paid the Post as a bribe in the expectation of silencing me while I was an editorial writer on that paper. This definite knowledge, however, would not be needed to enable me to comprehend the inspiration of the article relating to myself in today's Wasp. The minor dailies and all the weeklies, save one, are at your orders; therefore I shall hold you responsible for whatever they print that may be objectionable to me.

The only portion of the Wasp's article that I deem worthy of attention is the concluding line, in which, by necessary implication, I am accused of being "a boozy journalist who b'at his wife and forgot to pay his debts." I shall not stoop to characterize such a statement. Wives may as well be kept out of our controversy; but if it is your desire to match family histories—including births, marriages and deaths—I shall at once forego a gentleman's natural distriction and descending to your.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26, 1894.
Arthur McEwen, Eso., No. 429 Montgomery street, San Francisco, Cal.—Sir: I am in receipt of your communication dated February 24. In reply I would state that I had nothing whatever to do with the publication referring to you in the Wasp, or in any other weekly or daily paper. It is my opinion that scurrility is best met by science, and that no gentleman can protect himself that no gentleman can protect himself against the assaults of unprincipled against the assaults of unprincipled opponents by recrimination. I agree with you perfectly that women should be kept out of public controversies, and that it is an indecency and an outrage to which no honorable man should rehoun Opera Company begins its engagement at the Los Angeles Theater tonight, presenting Milloecker's tuneful and picturesque creation, "The Black Hussar." Then follows a quantity of "hot stuff" in the same line as the original assault on the proprietor of the Chronicle. McEwen appears to have adopted the curious expedient of ignoring the raking over which he got from Flynn's Wasp the week before, and of holding De Young responsible for the criticisms of all the newspapers, both daily and weekly. This is original and ingenious, to say the least, and magnifies the influence of Mr. de Young unduly. The several papers probably prefer to be considered responsible for their own "roasts," basting included.

WILL RESIGN.

John T. Gaffey Ceases to Be a Councilman

John T. Gaffey when seen by a Times reporter last night, said he had decided to present his resignation to-day as a member of the City Council.

The acceptance of the resignation

The acceptance of the resignation will create a vacancy which a quite large number of Eighth Ward residents have for a considerable time had an aching to fill. While there has been no great stir for the past few days regarding the matter there has at the same time been a good deal of culet work going on.

It is expected the Democratic City Central Committee will have a meeting soon and perfect arrangements for nominating a man by means of a ward convention made up of delegates selected from the various precincts.

A Missionary Sermon by Mr. Smither.

Liberal Collection is Taken Up for the Cause.

Mr. Thomson's Morning Sermon at Unity Church.

'Christ as the Revealer of Eternal Life" Rev. Mr. Bane at Trinity M. E. Church-Other Religious Services.

Yesterday was the day for the annual offering for foreign missions by the Christian churches of the United States. Apropos to the occasion, Rev. A. C. Smither preached a missionary sermon upon the growth of the king-dom of God, as set forth in the parables of the mustard seed and leaven. The one parable teaches its extensive its intensive growth. As in the para-bles, the kingdom of God is produced by the introduction into the race of life. Something extraneous to man is introduced into man, and produces life in him. Outside of the gospel, no di-vine life can be introduced into man. This life, when introduced, produces fruit by growth from a small beginning. Such was the origin of Christianity. Such are the characteristics of nature. This growth is hidden, sient, mysterious and yet powerful, sufficietly strong to eventually subjugate the whole kingdom of darkness to the power of Christ.

As in leaven, this growth is accomplished by one particle of flour impinging upon and affecting others, so God makes every converted man an evangelizing force. He cannot help bringing others to the same joy he has found for himself. By this means the whole lump of the race must eventually be leavened.

Upon the church, then, depends the evangelization of the heathen nations. Since all cannot go, they can support these without the head of the produce of the This life, when introduced, produces evangelization of the heathen nations.

Since all cannot go, they can support those who make the heroic sacrifice in going. Only by this means can the world be brought to the cross of Christ.

At the close of the discourse a liberal collection was taken for foreign missions.

In the near future this congregation will begin the erection of a new and commodious house of worship, on the northwest corner of Hope and Eleventh streets. It will supply a long-felt want, and will afford better facilities for this growing church.

ENGLISH LUTHERAN CHURCH. At the English Lutheran Church vesterday, the pastor, Rev. M. H. Stine, spoke on Psalms viii, 3: "When I con-sider the heavens the work of Thy fingers, what is man that Thou art mindful of him?"

He said: "Astronomy is one of the oldest and most sacred of all the sciences. Yet it should have become a science before it did. The stars ascending the blue vault of heaven night after night should have been lamps to guide the soul to the one infinite God.

These, analogy teaches us, are the suns of systems, some of them no doubt greater and grander than our own. It may be that these countless systems are the homes of animal and intellectual life. How infinite in power and wisdom the being who created and upholds them!

"This being is mindful of us. In the treals and disappointments and sorrows of life we sometimes think that man is the creature of chance and thought teaches us differently. The seasons as they come and go, with their fruits and flowers, teach us that God klinks of us. The great kingdoms of life the animal and vegetable, which support the physical life of man, teach the same truth.

"But why does God think of us?
"But why does God think of the amount of which man is captable as he passes from childhood to manhood. We see what progress.

'If it were not for these infinite pos sibilities, God would not have mani-lested himself in the flesh to redeem nim. How important, therefore, that we neglect not our eternal welfare." UNITY CHURCH.

UNITY CHURCH.

A sermon on "Christ as the Revealer of Eternal Life" was preached by the pastor, J. S. Thomson, at the Unity Church yesterday, from the words: "This is life eternal that they might know Thee, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom Thou hast sent," John yeit 3. John xvii, 3.

The Mosaic account of man's origin

Jesus Christ, whom Thou hast sent,"
John xvii, 3.

The Mosaic account of man's origin on the earth declares that God "breathed into his nostrils the breath of life," that is, human life was to have numerous manifestations. The child is born into the appetites, the sences, the instincts, the intellectual life, the spiritual life, the moral life. He passes through these sin births when his education and growth are normal. The animal, natural or psychic man, has the first four births, and sensuousness commands his forces along the horizontal line of earthly things; but the spiritual man must pass through births into spirituality and conscience, and conscience will direct his forces up the perpendicular line of heavenly things. Christ was born again in the Jordan after his baptism of water. "Thou art My beloved son," he then heard for the first time. He was God's son before, and He was moral and religious before; but His birth into the higher conciousness of God, of sonship took place then. There i a parlor in every soul that God's spirit only can fill and bless and, when we let the spirit in, the sense of our sonship is born in the soul. Several illustrations were given of this divine process. Christ pointed to a little child as a model saint, and said all sculs would have to be like the child's to enter heaven and he also said that the man must be born again, and the second childhood enriched with the experiences of life as the condition for heaven. Three agencies for this spiritual birth are, the gospel, Christ's life and experience. To know God is to experience him physically, intellectually or spiritually. The boy who has committed the Twenty-third Psalm to memory has an intellectual knowledge of it; but, when he has passed through life for years he knows it from experiencu. No soul can enter heaven before it is spiritualized. The psychic man does not go to hell, for he may be comfortable and happy in his sensuous life. But he shuts him self out of heaven and its splendors and glories. He feels no loss, becaus

He, as the Shepherd carries the lamb in His bosom, the older sheep can walk beside Him. So there was required of me faith in my guide, and faith in each of my band. So in the church of God must be this dual faith in each other and in God.

"Importance of Little Things." Christ laid stress on little things. He gave more value to 'quality than to quantity. What the world needs today is not a greater quantity of Christians, but a better quality. How we do an act is of more 'importance in the sight of God than the magnitude of the act. The publican's prayer and the widow's mites have come down to the world with the Master's benediction, while the curse of God has rested upon the great barns of Dives. No man is fit for God's service who is not willing to do little things. The people who are always waiting to do some great thing never accomplish anything. One of the secrets of success in life is doing what you do well, no matter how small it may be. Our Lord gave more rrominence to cups of cold water and garments made for the poor, and caring for little ones, than he did to building great palaces. The world is rushing wildly, today, after something great. Importance may be attached, however, to little things. Greece, the mother of philosophy and art for all time is not one-half the size of Scolland; Rome, the mighty mistress of the world, was only a city of Italy;
Palestine, the birthpiace of our Lord and the cradle of revelation, is about the size of Wales. Christ compared the kingdom of God to a mere mustard seed. The world, like Naaman, looks for some great thing—something that would attract attention. We fail to observe that the grandest results have ever—been—accomplished by what seemed little things. Creation was accomplished by a word. The destiny of Egypt hung on a child's tear—Moses weeping in the bulrushes. David slew Godiath with a sling, and delivered Israci. The battle of Waterioo was setided by a "few drops of water" and the sweep of a boy's hand, pointing Blucher quickly across the field. Dorcas's needle fasshed, out in oriental sunlight, stimuiating Christian benevolence, building poorhouses and orrhan asylums. All those little things may

"We need Thee every hour." By the attendance upon the duties of the Christian life this salvation and this assurance come from Jesus Christ, who sympathizes with us in all our temptations and trials.

Never be discouraged when you come to Him. Do His will, trust Him, walk in His ways and He will reward you eternally in heaven.

During the offertory Miss Elizabeth Kimbal sang an appropriate solo.

The crowd which partook of the free breakfast at the Pacific Gospel Union breakfast at the Pacific Gospel Union yesterday morning numbered about one hundred and fifty. The breakfast meeting was addressed by Evangelists W. W. Tinker and Carroll S. Mason. Five conversions were reported by the workers after the meeting. A very interesting meeting was held by the workers at the County Jail in the afternoon.

The gospel-wagon squad held two meetings on the street in the afternoon, at the corner of First and Los Angeles streets, and on Alameda street, with large, quiet and attentive crowds at both places.

In the evening a large crowd gathered at the hall. A thirty-minute song-service, led by A. W. Hare and accompanied by an excellent orchestra opened the meeting. Miss Jessie Goodwin sang "Jesus Saves" with fine effect. The Mission Male Quartette sang two selections. Evangelist W. W. Tinker, who has been conducting meetings at the mission during the past week, preached a stirring sermon from the words found in Hebrews ii. 3: "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" The address was an urgent appeal for sinners to come to Christ, and the danger of procrastination was vividly portrayed. At its close four evidenced their interest by requesting prayer in their behalf. Mr. Tinker's meetings with the union will continue every night this week. A feature of the services this week will be a stereopticon exhibition of scenes from the life of Christ, also an illustrated song-service from 7 to 8 o'clock. In the evening a large crowd gathered

The pastor, Rev. Arthur Rider, preached in the morning upon the thems, "The Church a Memorial." As the stones taken by Joshua from the Jordan and builded into a pillar in Gligal were a memorial of the Lord's deliverance from dangers and the opening of a way of entrance to His people, so the church is a memorial of the deliverance wrought by the hand of that greater Joshua, even by Jesus, who opened a way of entrance into the true and heavenly land of promise.

As the monument on the hither side of Jordan was an eloquent memorial of that protecting care which had been over them throughout the desert wandening, so the church, standing today on the hither side of the centuries of persecution, is a speaking memorial of immranuel God with its. Church, it being the fifth anniversary on the hither side of the centuries of persecution, is a speaking memorial of immanuel, God with us.

In her history if has been true which the psalmist sang: "God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved. God shall help her, and that right early." If in her very existence she is a standing memorial of God's protecting care, so in her teaching she is also a memorial, and in her ordinances. The cupper is an enduring memorial of His death. Baptism is a memorial of His death. Baptism is a memorial of His burial and resurrection. The church is to be a memorial of past blessings and future aid. As the heap of stones at Gigal toid of help in the past, so it also told of aid to yet be given, in subduling the Caananites, before them. In like manner the church commemsubduing the Caananites, before them. In like manner the church commemorates the goodness of God in past deliverances and preservation, and its existence assures us that He who has led will still lead it on, until the church militant shall become the church triumbant, and the church of the first-born in heaven, and throughout eternity be a memorial of His care who hath loved us and washed us from our sins in His own blood."

A NOTABLE COMPANY.

Chicago Millionaires at the Echo Mountain

Chicago millionaires at the Echo Meuntain House.

A notable company of Chicago millionaires gathered around one of the tables at the Echo Mountain House yesterday. At one end was Prof. T. S. C. Lowe at the other the head of the great western packing-houses, Philip D Armour. Occupying intermediate chairs were Henry W. King, at the head of thirteen mammoth clothing establishments in as many legding cities and employing an army of 5000 men; Franklin H. Head, president of the State Bank and Trust Company of Chicago and identified with the management of the Chicago Malleable Iron Works, which, together with the Cleveland foundry, constitutes the largest malleable iron works in the world; Frederick Layton, whose benefaction consisted in presenting the city of Milwaukee with a grand art gallery; Edwin R. Wadsworth, a veteran railroad man and old friend of Mr. Armour's; H. M. Singer, whose quarries of building stone have been trarsmitted into Chicago palaces, and R. T. Fitz gerald of Milwaukee, who has spert fifteen winters in Florida and two in Southern California and his estimae of the two localities is shown by fie fact that he is about to purchase a permanent home on Washington Height in Pasadena.

The party had been escorted from the Raymond Hotel on the 9 o'dock train by Mr. Knigat. On reaching Altadena the visiting crowds filled the Mount Lowe railway cars at the station, and while the Armour party were waiting Mr. McNally invited them to visit his beautiful grounds for Santa Rosa avenue. To say they were delighted with these elysiun fields—the roses and helbotrope and dayles and pansies, the palms and rubber and pine trees, the oranges and lemons in Lovuriant abundance, the fountains and fish-ponds and attractions would tamely express their sentiments.

At last a trolley-car was secured and their ascent over the mess and through Mouse.

At last a trolley-car was secured and their ascent over the mesa and through the canyon was algnalized by many exclamations of surprise and intelligent appreciation of the grand and beautiful scenery and the marvelous access to it. In looking down upon San Gabriel Valley, spread out fike a magnificent painting, with green and plowed fields alternating like squares upon a chess board, dark mountain ranges, verdant hills, populous cities and the rim of the blue sea beyond, they agreed that the scene was unmatched anywhere else in the world. "It is a wonder to me," said one of the party, "that the sopulation of this region is so small, but I see by the building improvements that are going on and the thousands of acres of young orchards that are being planted that you are going ahead vigorously and growing rapidly."

Among other visitors to Echo Mountain were Judge W. A. Cheney of Los Angeles and his oriental friend, Jinda Ram, from the Punjaub, India. He registered in English, Hindoo, Arabio and Hebrew.

The railroads were represented by G. B. Reeve, traffic manager of the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway; W. B. Kniskern, assistant general passenger agent, Chicago and Nortawestern Railroad, and Col. R. C. Clowiy, vice-president Western Union Telegraph Company at Chicago.

Mrs. Gen. James A. Mulligan, and W. T. Carrol formed another Chicago party and chanced to meet the Armour party on the incline car and were most cordially greeted. Gen. Mulligar was killed in the battle of Wincheste and his widow was appointed pensioa agent at Chicago by President Harrson and served in that capacity during the four years of his administration.

A Retrospect of the Lively Skirmish in the Year 1886.

The San Francisco Bulletin prints this interesting bit of history of the great rate war in 1886, which is especially timely now that a repetition of cially timely now that a repetition of the occurrences may be expected:

"In February, 1886, the dissolution of the Transcontinental Association in New York precipitated a railroad war that resulted in much benefit to California, and particularly the southern part of the State.

"The war began with a material cut in passenger rates to all Eastern points over the Central Pacific and Union Pacific. The other roads involved in the contest were the Southern Pacific, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Denver and Rio Grande, Northeren Pacific, Atlantic and Pacific, Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe and the Texas Pacific.

"The principal battle-ground was the and Santa Fe and the Texas Pacific.

"The principal battle-ground was the territory between the Pacific and the Missouri River. What was known as the 'Iowa pool,' embracing the roads between the river and Chicago, went to pieces about this time, adding to the general conflict for business. general conflict for business. The Central and-Union Pacific combined against the Atlantic and Pacific and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, now collectively known as the Santa Fe.

"When the war began the rates for single first-class limited tickets to New York were $113.25 and to Boston $115.25.

These figures were first cut to $79.50 and $81.50 respectively. Tickets of the same description to Omaha were reduced from $84 to $50.

"Immediately following the reduction of passenger rates the cutting of the freight tariffs began, to the extent of from 10 to 25 per cent. at the outset.

"The Atlantic and Pacific and the Santa Fe, acting together, made a keen fight for Southern California business. That was then new territory which they had invaded by means of the Southern California, now operated as a branch of the great Santa Fe system.

"When the war broke cut the Bulletin predicted that the old rates would never be restored—a forecast whose correcters is illustrated by the far predicted that the old rates would never be restored—a forecast whose correctness is illustrated by the fact that the first cut-rate of those days aft that the first cut-rate of those days afterward became the regular full rates. Thus the first heavy cut from $$4$ to $50 to and from the Missouri River has never been repaired, the latter figure being established at the close of the war, and since remaining in force. Now that the rate has been cut to $20 it may never go back to $50.

"In the war of 1886 the Southern Pacific took the aggressive, the Atchison and the Atlantic and Pacific meeting all cuts as fast as they were made. Rates on both passenger and freight traffic went down steadily. Early in March the Atlantic and Pacific cut under the rates of the Southern Pacific.

"During one week in March the number of arrivals here from the East by rail was 3000, mostly representing a permanent gain to the State.

"The low freight rates soon had the effect of clearing the local markets of the California canned goods, dried fruits and wines awaiting shipment.

"On March 17, 1885, the Bulletin remarked: The bottom has seemingly dropped out of the passenger business, scarcely any tickets being sold. The war has continued so long that it hardly creates any unusual interest. The fare to Omaha is $5, and sleepingcar charges are $14 for a single berth. The fare to Ohicago is $17.50, and sleeping-car charges are $17.

"These were about 'bed-rock' figures. The rate to the Missouri River did not fall below $5 from this city.

"On April 15 it was announced that the roads could not get Pullman and other cars enough to carry the passengers who wanted to come at the low rates. The cars then running carried many passengers who stood for many hours because they could find no seats.

"Passengers had to wait three days in Kansas City before they could obtain berths, and the Southern Pacific borrowed cars from all sources. Some of the trains from Ogden brought as many as eight hundred people each. Railroad men then estimated that the total receipts were paying expenses, owing to the magnitude of the traffic, many as eight hundred people each. Railroad men then estimated that the total receipts were paying expenses, owing to the magnitude of the traffic, although the fare was only $5 from Omaha. The local travel in the State was enormous, and in this way the Southern Pacific was making money.

"At one time in April there were 2000 passengers in Ogden awaiting transportation to California. All sorts of rough excursion cars were used to bring out this multitude.

"On April 21 news came from New York that the Atchison had advanced its rate to $30 for limited first-class tickets from the Missouri River to California, with a rebate of $10. The other two roads advanced rates in the same proportion, and freight rates were also raised. East-bound rates were advanced about the same time. The war was practically over, and the roads concerned in it co-operated in gradually raising the rates to figures which became established."

A Statement Filed in Mameda County by the Guardian.

The San Francisco Chronicle of Saturday says:

"Annie M. Pratt and Orville C. Pratt are minors and residents of Alameda county. They will make a claim to a large portion of the estate of Annie A. Pratt, who died at Los, Angeles last February, leaving an estate valued at $600,000, over which there is now a contest. E. L. Campbell, guardian of the minors, filed a report in the Alameda Superior Court yesterday, showing just what the children have in prospect. Orville C. Pratt, the grandfather of the children, died in San Francisco on October 28, 1891. In his will he gave the mother of the minors a home at Fruitland and 640 acres of land in Butte county. This property was given for the minors until they arrived at the age of 25 years. Then the home and land is to go to the children in fee simple absolute. The minors were also given one-quarter of the residue of the estate, but this was left in trust to F. C. Lusk, A. H. Crew and John Bldwell, who were to hold the same for seven years and then distribute it to the two children, left a will which has been presented for probate. The guardian says that if Mrs. Pratt died intestate the children would be entitled to one-half of the estate because they would take the share of their father, Charles Pratt, who is dead. The other half would go to Lucy C. Goodspeed, a daughter of Mrs. Pratt. But Mrs. Pratt died intestate in the estate. When has been a great deal of trouble over manded as executors in the will. STETSON'S WOES.

He Will Contest His Wife's Suit for Divorce.

Husband's Side of the Home Life the Mismated Couple-Some of Genlus.

It appears that Mrs. Charlotte Per kins Stetson, dress reformer, poetess and apostle of physical culture, is not to have plain sailing in her suit for di-vorce. Her artist husband has been vorce. Her artist husband has been heard from, and will make a contest, as will be seen from the San Francisco Chronicle of Saturday:

"G. Walt Stetson, the 'poor artint' of Providence, will give legal battle to his wife, Charlotte P. Stetson, the poetess and physical culturist. W. A. Beatty, the attorney, received a communication from the husband yesterday retaining him as counsel in the divorce proceedings instituted by the wife. The artist finds himself in the same position in which he placed his better half a year ago last December, when he made her the defendant in a divorce suit. At that time Stetson was the martyr and the injured party. The testimony introduced was rich and racy, but, at the conclusion of the case, the court was in doubt, and the couple were advised to try domestic biss once more.

The artist went back to his brush and palette, and the poetess to her poems and physical culture. It was canly a short time, though, when the couple again agreed to disagree, and Mrs. Stetson came to the Corst with her child and poured out her soul and her experiences in poetry. She claims, in her petition for a divorce, that her husband could not support her. When the husband brought suit he said that he could not endure her, let alone support her.

"Mr. Stetson's objections to his wife were that she was a supporter of Bellamy, an advocate of dress reform, and a crank on physical culture. Like all true artists, Stetson was wedded to his art, and the wife objected to moral bigamy in the family. She sought recreation for herself, and from all accounts the honeymoon waned to a crescent in a short time. The artist complained that his wife was too busy to live with him. They were married in May, 1882. At that time the craze for pugliism was rampant in all its glory. Whether this had anything to do with shaping the budding poetess' ideas is not known. But, at any rate, she joined a gymnasium and rapidly developed into a very muscular young woman. She discarded corsets and said that it was an unhealthful thing to wear a waist belt. The husband also dwelt upon the increase of her biceps and her powerful right, and declared that she wore fine calf shoes without heels.

"Mrs. Stetson said that she wanted to show American women how to dress, how to become strong and healthy, so that children might be born to them without costing them their health. The couple lived together, despite the reformer's eccentricities, until July, 1889. At that time she secentricities, until July, 1889. At that time she load and gave the rest of the residence to him. She went on developing her muscle, studying up new dress reforms, and plunging into poetry at the same time. She was a wife in name only until January, 1890. At that time she concluded that her husband was too near her that the house was not in fact, big enough to hold both

Mrs. Stetson's literary efforts have been favorably commented on. Of her 'Similar Cases,' which appeared in the Nationalist, Howells said: 'We have had nothing since the 'Bigelow Papers' half so good in a good cause.' Of her 'Women of Today' the same writer said: 'It is dreadfully true.'

"When the divorce suit was brought by the artist the Women's Press Association and other reform movements were much scandalized by the complaint, and immediately new subjects were agritated in regard to the sphere of women, and notably among the new subjects which cropped up was the compatability of a woman being a helpmeet and a Bellamite. The question of the necessity of the corset to domesticity also arose; likewise the shoeheel and the propriety of a lady advanced in physical culture sewing on a shirt-button or spanking a baby. These profound subjects were duly canvassed at the time and answered by the ladies to their general satisfaction."

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Matters That Will Come Up at the Session Today.

If the necessary arrangements can be perfected, it is expected that some action will be taken by the City Council at today's session, preparatory to a public celebration some time this week over the completion of the outfall sewer. Men were put to work soon after the accident, last Thursday, repairing the damage done to the chamber at the upper end of the woodpipe section, beyond Inglewood, and it will probably be in good shape again in two or three days' time.

Hearing on the protest against the sewering of Twenty-second street, between Grand avenue and Main street, has been set for 2 o'clock this afternoon. public celebration some time this week has been set for 2 o'clock this afternoon.

At the last meeting of the Council the City Aitorney reported in the matter of a petition referred to him, asking that obstructions be removed from Church lane. The report stated that the question whether or not Church lane is a public street, had been raised on a number of previous occasions, and he, therefore, recommended that the matter be referred to the Land Committee, to see whether Church lane is a public thoroughfare. It was so referred, and that committee will have an opportunity to report on it today.

A report is expected from the Sewer Committee on the matter of the protest of Louis Gottschalk, Bsq., against the city entering into any contract with Dalton Wheeler for the construction of the Maple-avenue sewer. One of the legal points raised in his protest is that the posting of the necessary notices on the bulletin boards by the front City Hall steps, is not as close to the entrance to the Council chamber as the law requires, and therefore the law was not compiled with in posting the not ces on the board mentioned. Should this point, as raised by Mr. Gottschalk, be sustained there in posting the notices on the board mentioned. Should this point, as raised by Mr. Gottschalk, be sustained there may be some interesting developments, for it has been the custom for some years to post notices on that board. A petition submitted last week from Robert Sherer, asking that he be relieved from his contract for the improvement of Sixteenth street, between Vermont street and Union avenue, because of an error in the proceedings, was referred to the City Attorney, who will probably report on it today.

About 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon an excited Chinaman rushed into the police station and inquired for Police Surgeon Bryant, stating that another Chinarran had smoked too much opium in a Chinatown joint and was very sick. Dr. Bryant being in attendance at the funeral of Chief Glass's son, the messenger was referred to Dr.
Lasher, who at once responded to the call. Upon arrival at the place designated, an opium joint on Marchessault street, the doctor found that the patient was dead, however, and the matter was accordingly reported to the Coroner, who will hold an inquest

THE big Ribbon Sale of the year takes place today; it will be the largest and most valuable sale, ever made in this city; when you consider the fact that ribbons are extremely fashionable, and that the quality of this big lot of ribbons is of extra merit, and the price only 25c a yard, you cannot doubt the fact that this ribbon sale will be of more than ordinary merit. The Parasols for spring, the Sunshades for spring, are open for your inspection today; the largest and finest and most desirable line of Carriage Parasols ever shown at a reasonable price; they are here in abundance; they are here at very low prices. The new parasols, with the rich Dresden handles, decidedly new and popular, and very low in price. Today this store is doing the largest business in this city; we are doing the largest business in inexpensive goods; the rarest combinations of nice, neat, stylish and good wearing goods at a reasonable price. The time has gone by for luxuries; the great masses are buying economical goods, and we have been studying this phase of the question on stylish looking goods that can be sold for a moderate price. The Dress Goods Department is selling a choice line of rich all-wool goods in small, neat effects at 50c a yard; they would be cheap at 75c; many and many a yard we have sold for $1, now 50c a yard; in this we study your economy. It is the same in Cloaks, in Millinery, in Wash Dress Goods; people are looking after medium priced goods; they want style and neatness combined with moderate price, and this we have met in every department, and have paid more attention to this phase of the business than ever before. We are doing the largest business in the city; no one questions this fact now; we treat the people right, show good goods at a moderate price and keep the store neat and attractive in every way. Our salespeople know the art of politeness; rude answers are never given; goods are shown freely and the stocks are all in first-class condition for selling. We invite you to the big Ribbon Sale today; the biggest ever known in this city; the biggest for stock, and the biggest for values.

CHINESE LOTTERIES.

A Difficult Problem for the Police.

Why It is Almost Impossible to Get Evidence.

Safeguards Employed by the Wily Heathen.

Council Will Enact the Ordinance Suggested by

Of all the kinds of gambling carried on in Chinatown the lottery business is, perhaps, the most extensive, and at the same time, as matters at pres-ent are, it is one of the most difficult strange that lottery tickets are for sale openly in most of the Chinese stores and under the very eyes of the police. After seeing the tickets on sale. exposed so openly, one who does not un-derstand the situation would think the officers recreant in the discharge of heir duty, when, as a matter of fact. the officers are doing all that can be the officers are doing all that can be done by them to suppress the evil.

the officers are doing all that can be done by them to suppress the evil.

Wily John is especially wily in the matter of selling these tickets, and for a uniformed police officer to witness fae, sale of them in such a manner that by his testimony in court he can secure a conviction is almost an impossibility. For an officer to get where he can actually see the drawing by which the prize ticket is determined is still further out of the quesition.

As is well understood by many a Chinese lottery ticket is a piece of paper containing eighty Chinese characters—forty: above a line across the middle of the ticket and forty below. The buyer of a ticket marks ten of the drawing, which is held by each the company wice per day, all of the company wice per day, all of the drawing, which is held by each tickets, which is placed in a bundle going of the drawing where they are placed in a bundle going of the drawing which is held by each tickets, which is placed by each tickets, which company wide per day, all of the drawing, which is held by each tickets, which is placed by each ticket will probably find no evidence what-ever that a drawing is or has been in rogress.

Such being the case the police are rendered almost powerless to suppress the evil so long as only the present laws and ordinances are in force. The lottery games are conducted largely by higheinders and Chinese gamblers who, instead of making an honest living by working, live upon what by means of these games they are able to fleece from the industrious Chinamen workfrom the industrious Chinamen workhig on the ranches or from those employed at the wash-houses. These gamblers are considered to be the most undestrable class of the Mongolians in the country and it is believed that any means by which they can be made to leave here would be a great boon to the city.

chosen bowl. An announcement of the spots selected in this manner is then sent to the stores where tickets have been sold for this particular drawing.

If a person has bought a 10-cent ticket, and five of the 'spots which he has marked correspond to five of the spots marked at the drawing, his winning will be 20 cents. If less than five spots correspond he will win nothing. If he be so lucky as to have six spots correspond, he will win $2. His winnings, with an increased number of corresponding spots, will be: Seven spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $500; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $500; mine spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $500; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $400; ten spots, $50; eight spots, $100; nine spots, $100; nine spots, $100; ten spots, $100; te him to borrow from his employer's cash-drawer in order to make good his losses.

Not only are the tickets sold in the Chinese stores and shops but to quite a large extent agents for the various lotteries are in the habit of calling at houses about the city and endeavoring to induce people to buy tickets. It is even stated that some of the tickets thus sold are for lottery firms that went out of business a long time ago. Of course such venders of tickets do not announce this fact when they are endeavoring, o make sales, but it is stated that when cases of this kind have been brought into court it has been shown that the ticket which the defendant had endeavored to sell was one for a company that had not done any business in a long while and which company at that time was not in existence.

Apparently the only way by which this evil can be suppressed is by the enactment of a strict ordinance such as Chief Glass suggests.

One of the favorite drives nowadays lies in a northwesterly direction from town, past Devil's Gate, through the beautiful valley of the Canyada and home by way of Glendale and Engle Rock Valley. While this route does not possess as many attractions as the famous "round the circuit" drive, which takes in Raiddwin's ranch and the San Gabriel Valley mission, the scenery is infinitely finer and more varied.

Correspondence.) The gilmmer of a new light is beginning to radiate the wharf project, and its incandescent glow bears a Southern Pacific hue.

The Trustees met in committee of the whole Saturday evening to cogitate upon the wharf election proposition. But when ready to act, as was generally supposed, they concluded not to make any immediate recommendation in their report, so that when they file that document in regular session Monday evening it will contain only the assurance that the committee is making progress, and desires further time. In the committee meeting this report was agreed upon as the logical sequence of the committee's resolution to defer conclusion on the wharf election matter to some future time.

The true inwardness of this action is that it, has been semi-officially ascertained that the Southern Pacific people will, in the immediate future, build a pleasure wharf mear the Arcadia Hotel, and not only that, but the structure will be for pleasure purposes what the big wharf is for business, complete to the minutest details. No one contensis that more than one additional wharf is needed, and if the railway people have a pet scheme in this direction which they desire to carry out, the decision will be practically unanimous to stand from under and give them all the room they need.

The city election occurs April 9, and although it is understood that there will be no hard fight on party lifes, there is, nevertheless, considerable interest quietly centering in several of the contests. The local press has as yet made but two official announcements of candidates. S. Jackson for Trustee and A. J. Myers for Marshal. It is, however, well understood that M. K. Baretto will stand as a candidate for re-election as Marshal, C. S. Dales for Clerk, George C. Boehme for Trustees thouseling the clerkship with Mr. Dales he is yet to show his hand. Dr. J. J. Place has been mentioned for Crustees, there has been inclined for free the present positions. If any one contemplates contesting the clerkship with Mr. Dales show his hand. Dr. J. J. Place has been mentioned in connection with the treasuryship, while besides those already mentioned for Trustees, there has been incidental use of the names of T. R. Owens, L. R. Brown, N. R. Folsom and N. A. Roth. There is good timber in this list and no substantial interest of the town is likely to suffer whichever of the gentlemen are chosen to the positions to which they aspire, or are forwarded by their friends.

Practical Operation of the Sunday closing Ordinance.

Classes of Business-Cowardly Assault on a Redlands Editor.

SAN BERNARDINO, March 4.—(Special Correspondence.) The new Sunday-closing ordinance is in effect today, and is strictly observed, practically every business house having its doors locked. Although drug stores are permitted to remain open to sell medicines and surgical instruments, the five in the city have agreed to close, save one, and each one to be open once in five Sundays, thus taking turns in rotation at opening. The cigar stands were all shut, though some smokers succeeded in securing something to smoke, and many complained because of their inability to procure cigars and fruits. A few bootblacks concluded that they could operate, and "shine?" could be heard with the cry of "morning papers." The Sunday-opening advocates were about the streets all day complaining of the puritanical policy of locking the doors of business in the city and endeavoring to kill the town. But the town has been unusually orderly, and the law is working smoothly, though quite a large sum of money has been raised to test the validity of the ordinance, but so far the legal advisers are not decided how or when to take up a case. There is talk of arresting the head officers of the gas company who have to make gas on Sundays to keep up the requisite pressure, and there was also talk today of making a case against church officers who take up collections in church, as being in violation of the ordinance. So far nothing has been done.

Electricity for Telegraphy.

In an interesting account of a recent visit to this country, W. H. Preece, the English electrician, in the Electrician, London, says the dynamos are gradually replacing voltaic batteries in the United States as sources of electricity for telegraphy, the current being obtained either from a separate plant or by tapping the electric light wires. In New York, 30,600 to 40,600 cells have been replaced by dynamos, while in Boston 10,600 cells, which cost $20,000 a year, are now replaced by electricity from the electric-light, wires at $3000 a year. The Western Union Company has a special plant of fifty-one small dynamos at New York, and forty-six at Chicago. Mr. Preece, however, prefers storage batteries, which are growing in favor in England, their advantages being freedom from breakdown, steadiness, and economy. Electricity for Telegraphy.

Effects of Corporal Punishment.

The Lancet, London, January 27, thinks that there are some children in whose case physical punishment may have to be dispensed with altogether, the results being highly dangerous to health and even to life. In any event, the cane must not be used over prominent bony structures, which readily become inflamed after injury. These remarks, as well as the case by which they are suggested—that of a boy whose death was recently traced directly to a caning received at school—serve to bring out the great differences between English and American schools in the matter of corporal punishment.

This was taken by a representative of the Earl company by the name of Stewart, as a serious reflection upon his company, and he lay in wait for A. G. Sheshan, the cilitor of the Facts. Some words passed between the two near the facts office, when Mr. Stewart deliberately knocked Mr. Sheshan down. As Mr. Sheshan is a mild-tempered man, and courteous, both personally and through his paper, public sentiment is altered wholly with him in the intain. A warrant was issued at once for battery.

How Plants Climb.

Rev. G. Henslow of the Linnean Society, London, has attempted to show the existence of a power in living vegetable protopiasm of responding to purely mechanical external forces by enveloping supportive tissues, by means of which the plant is enabled to resist the effects of gravity, tension, pressure, etc. He thinks that the peculiar structure of climbers are all the outcome of a response to external mechanical forces acting directly upon the stems, without the aid of natural selection.

Mrs. Rockwell had little else to do except dress well and amuse herself, and she was a constant attendant at the baseball games, where she met the pitcher. The two soon became very intimate, and it was an open secret among the players that the affection of the two for one another was not purely platonic.

"Whenever his team was in Seattle McNabb and the woman were always together, and when the team visited Spokane the pitcher was always finding excuses to visit the city where Mrs. Rockwell lived.

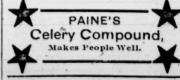

"Finally the Pacific Northwest League gave up the ghost, and there was a hegira of the players toward California, where a large number of them finished the season of 1892. Among those whe entered the California League were McNabb and his catcher, 'Kid' Baldwin, both of whom were engaged by Mandall and the sangeles.

"Finally the pitcher's health began to fail, and his physicians informed him that it would be advisable for him to return to California. The Baltimore engagement was accordingly relinquished, and Mrs. Rockwell accompanied him back to Los Angeles.

"Finally funds began to run low and she secured an engagement in a vaude-ville theater in Los Angeles as a skirt-dancer. From there she came to this city and secured an engagement at the Wigwam, where she remained a Week. About this time Mr. Rockwell had business in Los Angeles, and McNabb concluded to run no chances of meeting him, and followed the woman to this city.

"By this time the managers of the Eastern baseball clubs commenced making up their terms for the season of 1894: "Basty" Wright, who for two seasons had played with the Los Angles club; secured the management of the Grand Rapids team of the Western Leegue, and secured McNabb as one of the pitchers. Meanwhile Mrs. Rockwell had secured an engagement with the Alvin Joslyn theatrical troupe and went East with that combination.

"Among the ball-players in this city, there is a difference of opinion as to the cause of the tragedy last night. Some believe that the woman, who was a poor performer, had lost her situation, and that when McNabb and she had spent the $250 that Grand Rapids was buncoed out of they made up their minds to die together. Others, however, say that the baseball player was very jealous of the woman and believe that he discovered her in some indiscretion and for that reason shot her and killed himself."

The McNabt-Rockwell Tragedy—Relations of the Parties.

The San Francisco Bulletin gives the following details concerning Peter McNabb, the ball-player, and Mrs. Rockwell, whose tragic death was announced in the Associated Press dispatches a few days ago:

"This morning's dispatches from the East announced that E. J. McNabb, a baseball pitcher, had shot and fatally wounded Mrs. R. E. Rockwell and then killed himself. The tragedy occurred in the Hotel Eiffel in Pittsburgh, Pa, last night.

"The two mentioned in the dispatch are well known in this fity, and also lin every large town on the Coast from Seattle to Los Angeles. The woman was the wife of R. E. Rockwell, and ager of the Union fee Company at Seattle, Wash, while McNabb pitched for the Los Angeles team of the Callfornia League during the latter part of the sea: on of 1892.

"It was learned today from the associates of the dead pitcher that he and the woman became acquainted during the year of 1891. At that time R. E. Rockwell was president of the Pacific Northwest Baseball League, and McNabb was the star twirler of one of the clubs which composed the league.

How a Woman Was Duped by Her Friend.

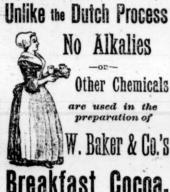

Queer Case Which is Now Being Investi gated by the Poilce-Robbed of Her Money and Soveral days ago a domely and well-preserved woman of 40 or there-abouts, called at police headquarters, and, after introducing herself as Mrs. N. A. Boggs of Prescott, Ariz., announced that she wanted a little personal matter investigated. She stated that some time ago she met a man named Edgar Moore, with whom she became on very intimate terms, and that in January last he left Prescott for this city, with the understanding for this city, with the understanding that she was to follow him later, when both were to visit the Midwinter Fair together. Accordingly, about the mid die of February, sae came to Los An-geles, and took a room on Hill street, near Second. Before leaving Prescut.

die of February, she came to Los Angeles, and took a room on Hill street, near Second. Before leaving Prescott, however, she picked a quantity of iewelry and other valuables, including a bar of gold, $220 in small gold coin, a gold certificate for $100, and a $10 piece, in a box, which she deposited for safe-keeping in the vault of the County Treasurer, whom she knew very well.

After her arrival in this city Moore called to see her very frequently, and escorted her about town, much as he had done at Prescott. Consequently, when he called at her room one evening, and, after producing three of her letters to him from his pocket, asked her to write her signature upon the blank page of one of them, in order that he might compare it with those on the letters, she laughingly complied, and thought no more of the matter. A few days later, much to her surprise, he intimated that he could not carry out his plan of going to the fair just then, but would do so in May, and suggested that she return home meanwhile.

This, however, she refused to do, and a scene ensued, when he insisted on his proposition being carried out. After he left, Mrs. Boggs thought the matter over, and the more she thought about the matter the less she liked it. Finally, her suspicions being thoroughly aroused, she sought the assistance of the police. The matter was placed in the hands of Detective Bosqui, who very soon learned that a box, similar to that described by Mrs. Boggs, had been received at the local Wells-Fargo office. It was addressed to "Mrs. Moore, Les Angeles," and had been called for by Mr. Moore, but was not delivered to him, since he was not known. It was, however, delivered to the First National Bank, at the request of J. M. Elliott, who receipted for it, and, after remaining at the bank all night, was returned to the express office. On the afternoon of February 23, however, the box was adelivered to Mr. Moore, upon cn order to that effect teiegraphed from the agent at Prescott, asad several days later it was reshipped to the latt
